STRANGE TALESSenators Will Investigate Both Capital and Labor.

LIGHT ON INDUSTRIAL WARS

Lobby Inquisitors Summon Samuel Gompers and John Mitchell, Officers of the American Federation of Labor, and President George Pope and J. P. Bird of the National Association of Manufacturers.Washington, July 11.—All the "wars" that have been fought between labor and capital, all the efforts that both have made to procure legislation which would profit them and the tangled skein woven about their relations in the last ten years are to be investigated by congress.The senate lobby committee, in executive session, decided that the "wars" must be inquired into. Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will appear before the committee July 25 and a subpoena was issued for John Mitchell, vice president of the federation and former head of the United Mine Workers.At the same time the committee subpoenaed George Pope and J. P.
Bird, general manager of the National Association of Manufacturers.As the tale is unfolded other men prominent in labor organizations or associations of manufacturers, or individual employers of labor who are brought to notice, will be asked to appear. The committee decided to look into this subject, believing that it may develop startling information and knowing it will extend the inquiry many weeks.

Inside Stories of Strikes.

One senator said that the quest might reach back into some of the dark corners of the McNamara dynam-iting case and might bring into the light the inside story of many of the great strikes that have paralyzed industries and thrown thousands out of work in the past few years.He intimated, too, that it might develop the most marvelous of all the strange tales that the committee has heard in the past six weeks.The committee expects to finish with its investigation of wool and sugar activities today, and will take up the charges made by Martin M.
Mulhall, former "lobbyist" for the National Association of Manufacturers. Thousands of letters, involving many men who were once prominent in congress, as well as some still in public life, have been furnished the committee and his examination may take several days.The committee decided to grant a request from the association to be represented by counsel. It decided also not to turn over the Mulhall papers to the house special investigating committee until it has finished with them.Chairman Overman heard a report that Mulhall had been told to get out of Washington. Mulhall did not know who made the threat. Mr.
Overman said steps would be taken to protect Mulhall if necessary by delegating a sergeant-at-arms to guard him.

TARIFF HITS RECIPROCITY

Smoot's Analysis Says Print Paper
Provision Conflicts.Washington, July 11.—That the provision of the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill levying a duty of 12 per cent ad valorem on print paper valued at more than 2½ cents a pound and not more than 4 cents a pound may repeal a portion of the Canadian reciprocity act of 1911 is contended in the analysis of the measure prepared under the direction of Senator Smoot, Republican member of the finance committee. If it does not operate to repeal the law, it is contended that there will be two rates in controversy on this grade of paper.Besides the duty of 12 per cent ad valorem the Democratic bill would impose a countervailing tax in retailing for export license fee or other charge imposed by a foreign country.THAW ASKS $30,000.
Pittsburg, July 11.—Attorneys for Harry K. Thaw have petitioned the orphan's court here asking that the fidelity title and trust company, trustee, be required to pay to Harry Thaw the sum of $30,- 000. The petition asserts that in the last five years Thaw has not been paid his share of the income on the estate.

Senate Favors Homesteaders.

Washington, July 11.—The senate passed a bill to no longer require continuous residence on public lands entered where insufficient water for domestic purposes exists, and also the Borah bill authorizing special improvements on homestead entries in lieu of cultivation of a certain acreage annually.SEES LESSON IN

LAUDS EARLY NAVAL HEROES

Cabinet Officer Declares That Life Is Too Full of Opportunities to Throw
Up the Sponge and Asks God's Pity
on the Man Who Gives Up.Erie, Pa., July 11.—Exploits of America's early naval heroes were lauded as splendid examples, proving that
"the man is greater than the ship," here by Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, in an address at the Perry victory centennial celebration.The secretary told again the wonderful story of Oliver Hazard Perry's little improvised fleet and its triumph over the British men-of-war under veteran officers; he recalled the inspiring death of Lawrence with the words "Don't give up the ship" only recently off his lips and still in his heart and he dwelt upon the magnifcent daring of John Paul Jones."It is not always the highest training and skill which wins the battle, although we must not for a moment underrate the value of these," Mr.
Daniels said. "It was this marvelous initiative this unconquerable will power which saved the day for the young republic at the battle of Lake Erie and gave Perry immortal fame. The man is greater than the ship. I am afraid there is danger in this day of technical things, this day of methods, and models, and mechanisms, that we may get too far away from the idea that readiness and aptitude and initiative, alertness to change the line of battle with changing circumstances in the fate of the fray, are vital to success."

Prays for Same Spirit Today.

"Perry wrote to the secretary of the navy before the battle, during his agonized efforts to get ready,
'Give me men, sir, and I will acquire both for you and myself honor and glory on this lake or perish in the attempt.' Men who mean to die if they don't succeed, usually win. God gave us the Jones and Perry spirit today.""There is a tremendously important lesson involved in this example that Oliver Hazard Perry has set us.
On every avenue of life it applies.
God pity the man who gives up. Life is too full of opportunities to 'throw up the sponge.' Despair is the knife that stabs success to the heart."After his speech, holding a gavel fashioned of wood and iron taken from the Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry's fleet at the battle of Put-in-Bay, Mr. Daniels pledged himself to the crowd about him to give the gravel to his son, so that he might better emulate the example of the great naval hero of the lakes.After his address Mr. Daniels and his party reviewed the naval parade.

COLONEL SHEEHAN IS DEAD

Hero of Famous Defense of Fort Ridgely in 1862.St. Paul, July 11.—Colonel Timothy J. Sheehan, hero of the famous defense of Fort Ridgely in 1862, pioneer of Minnesota and prominent in many battles of the Civil war, died at his home after an illness of nearly a year.
He had been in ill health for several years, but since last August had not been able to leave his bed. His age, seventy-eight years, combined with the weakening effects of seven wounds which he received during his career as a soldier, made the battle for life a losing struggle.Colonel Sheehan was one of the best known men of the Northwest and his deeds of valor are told in a dozen or more histories. For seventeen years, up to 1907, he had served as deputy
United States marshal for this district.
Colonel Sheehan came to Minnesota in 1857, settling at Albert Lea.

Strikers Appeal to Governor.

St. Louis, July 11.—Striking hotel waiters are anxiously awaiting reply from Governor Major to their request for militia protection from alleged attacks by the police. The strikers informed the governor that should he fail to act they will organize to protect themselves and fear unnecessary bloodshed will follow.

INDICTED FOR RIVA KIL

Havana Grand Jury Returns Bills Against Asbert and Arias.Havana, July 11.—The supreme court found indictments against General Asbert, governor of Havana province, and Representative Arias on the charge of homicide, assault with firearms and resistance to authority. The indicted men are held responsible for the killing of General Armando Riva, chief of the Cuban national police.

Charges Against John S. Kennedy, Removed by Sulzer.White Plains, N. Y., July 11.—A hundred-page indictment charging mismanagement of the Sing Sing state prison, neglect of duty, failure to investigate complaints and containing other allegations, was filed against John S. Kennedy, whom Governor Sulzer recently removed as warden, by the Westchester county grand jury. Kennedy surrendered himself in court, where he gave bond in

UP LAMAR'S CASEMay Indict New Yorker for Impersonation.New York, July 11.—The case of David Lamar—his impersonations of United States senators and representatives in connection with the so called Union Pacific conspiracy—was placed before the federal grand jury by District Attorney Marshall.All the testimony taken in the case before the senate lobby investigation was given to the jury and Lewis Cass Ledyard, one of the principal witnesses for the committee was called to testify in person. His examination was not completed.United States District Attorney Marshall purposes to offer Mr. Led-yard's testimony as a presentation of the government's case and to call United States Senator Stone and Representatives Palmer and Rordan to deny knowledge of the telephone messages received by Ledyard and others.Under the law the government cannot use the testimony before the senate committee as a basis for criminal prosecution, but with it in their possession the federal prosecutor and the jury can use it as a guide to bring out the material points in the case.

TWO GANGSTERS ARE SLAIN

One Is Shot and Stabbed and Policeman Kills the Other.New York, July 11.—Four gangsters intercepted Morris Reich on a crowded East Side corner and two knife thrusts and revolver bullet wounds in the chest and back ended his career on the spot. A gang feud is believed to be the cause.Another gangster, Peter McCabe, said to be a leader of the so called Gopher gang, was shot and killed on Staten Island by a special policeman, Thomas Bananza. The latter, held on a charge of manslaughter, maintains he was attacked by McCabe and two other men.

Pittsburg's Scare Is Over.

Pittsburg, July 11.—Conditions in financial circles have to all appearances reached the normal. The run on the Pittsburg Bank for Savings, which was started by the closing of the First-Second National on Monday, subsided early in the afternoon, a resumption of the run had some slight anxiety.

CALIFORNIA FIRE IS OUT

Fighters Conquer Flames on Mount Tamalpais.Mount Tamalpais Summit, Cal., July 11.—The forest fires on Mount Tamal-pais are out. Here and there linger a few smoldering embers, but after four days and three sleepless nights of fighting Mill Valley, Larkspur, Corte Madero and Muir Woods are definitely beyond the return of danger.Beyond the destruction of timber the property loss has been slight.
It has been definitely established that there was no loss of life.Three thousand men of the United States army and navy and 1,000 state militiamen aided in fighting the forest fire.Scores of fire fighters were overcome by the heat and a field hospital established in Mill Valley was crowd-

IMMIGRATION LAWWilson's Sentiments Suggest
Stronger Restrictive Measure.

THE CANADIAN MENACE.

Absorption of Many Years Has Kept the Mississippi Valley Almost at a Standstill—Development of Canada, Population and Farms, Will Be Checked Only by the Frozen North.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 11.—[Special.]— Democratic leaders are as much interested in preventing legislation as getting through those bills which the president has said must be passed. There are a lot of minor measures that might pass without resistance, but the trouble is that several men are waiting for an opportunity to push forward public measures in which they are much interested.Most important among such measures is the immigration bill, which was voted by President Taft in the last congress and narrowly missed passing by a two-thirds vote over the veto. In all probability the immigration bill is stronger now than when it passed last winter. At least the inference is that the larger Democratic majority would favor it. But there is also the suspicion that the Democrats in the last congress were playing that old game of
"putting it up to Taft," which was rather popular during the last half of the late Republican administration.

The President's Position.

The president's ideas about restrictive immigration has not been discovered, but in his writings before he came to high official station he showed an indication toward greater restriction.
It is not likely that he would veto a bill such as passed the last congress, but it is expected that a stronger measure will be put forward when opportunity affords, as there is quite a growing sentiment in favor of cutting down the immigration from Europe to this country.

In connection with the immigration question is the menace of Canadian absorption which has been going on for so many years and which has kept the Mississippi valley states at almost a standstill in population. "We are taking in the raw material from Europe," remarked a statesman several years ago, "and turning out the finished product for the benefit of Canada."Many reasons are given why Canada has proven so attractive, but probably the best is that it is the "last west."
That region is the last large tract on the North American continent that can be developed into agricultural communities. The hunger for something new in the way of tillable lands caused the development and settlement of America step by step. The Canadian development will be checked only by the frozen north. At the same time we would like to have our people remain at home, and beyond question they will be better off in the end if they stay in this country.

They Take an Interest.

More interest has been taken in the president's room in the senate wing of the capitol than ever before, due to the fact that President Wilson has made use of it for talking business with congressmen. It was always a show place, but now every guide tells his interested listeners how President Wilson has created an innovation by coming to congress frequently.

Clerks Are Working.

"The dear people" are not going without literature this year. Even if members of the house are away from Washington, work by their clerks does not cease. Nearly every office room at the capitol is a hive of industry, and millions of speeches are being mailed over the country to instruct the voters as to what the different members had to say about the tariff. We know much was said on that bill for "home consumption" and the loads of mail dispatched daily only confirm those views.

Marshall's Plea.

As usual in the senate when an interesting debate is going on no one follows the rules and addresses the chair and asks permission to interrupt the man who happens to be talking. That happened not long ago, and after a time the vice president tapped lightly with his gavel and remarked:
"The chair desires to announce that the chair seems not to be addressed and has not been today.""The chair is quite correct," apologized Senator Lodge, and then the debate went on as before Mr. Marshall made his plea.

Bone of Contention.

The fourth class postmasters are still a source of contention among the politicians who are also statesmen.
Even the plan which Postmaster General Burleson worked out to have these men take an examination does not seem successful.Discussing the subject in the senate, Smith of South Carolina remarked that no one expected a man performing the duties of a fourth class postmaster to be kept under civil service regulations. He asserted that it would bring the civil service into disrepute. Many senators want the Taft proclamation placing so many fourth class postmasters under the civil service rescinded outright.

of Suffragists.Washington, July 11.—Chairman Henry of the house committee on suffragists, headed by Mrs. Helen Gardener, the authoress, that the committee would give them a hearing next December on the question of adding a committee on woman suffrage to the standing committees of the house.The delegation included the wives of Senator Shafroth of Colorado and of Representatives Baker of California, Stone of Illinois and Taylor of Colorado.Mrs. Gardener and Mrs. Stone, who did the talking, told Mr. Henry that one-fifth of the senate and one-seventh of the house membership now come from states where women vote and that one-sixth of the electoral votes are cast by suffrage states.

They also said that in the 1916 presidential election nearly 4,000,000 women will vote.

Wisconsin Board of Health Advises Public Not to Take Cure.Madison, Wis., July 11.—The Wisconsin state board of health in a bultempting to take the Friedmann so called "cure" for tuberculosis and urges waiting for a final report by the United States public health service upon the merits and dangers incident to the administration of the treatment.

"We regret that the methods of exploiting this 'cure' and the results thus far obtained do not give us any encouragement in the reliability or efficacy of this remedy," says the board.
"and therefore would strongly advise individuals who are suffering from tuberculosis to continue in the well known method of treatment, namely, rest, fresh air and plenty of good food, until the government officials have made a final report of the investigation now being made."

pers to the house special investigat-
know who made the threat. Mr.
guard him.

Provision Conflicts.Washington, July 11.—That the
cent ad valorem on print paper valued at more than 2½ cents a pound
in the analysis of the measure prepared under the direction of Senator Smoot, Republican member of
operate to repeal the law, it is con-
impose a countervailing tax in retaliation for export license fee or other charge imposed by a foreign country.THAW ASKS $30,000.

on the Man Who Gives Up.Erie, Pa., July 11.—Exploits of Amer-
as splendid examples, proving that
"the man is greater than the ship,"
victory centennial celebration.The secretary told again the won-
cent daring of John Paul Jones."It is not always the highest training and skill which wins the battle,
underrate the value of these," Mr.
Daniels said. "It was this marvelous initiative this unconquerable will power which saved the day for the young republic at the battle of Lake Erie
and gave Perry immortal fame. The
technical things, this day of methods,
the fate of the fray, are vital to success."Prays for Same Spirit Today.
his agonized efforts to get ready,
they don't succeed, usually win. God give us the Jones and Perry spirit today.""There is a tremendously impor-
that Oliver Hazard Perry has set us.
On every avenue of life it applies.
that stabs success to the heart."After his speech, holding a gavel
from the Lawrence and Niagara, flag-ships of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry's fleet at the battle of Put-in-
gavel to his son, so that he might
his party reviewed the naval parade.

ly in 1862.St. Paul, July 11.—Colonel Timothy
J. Sheehan, hero of the famous de-
home after an illness of nearly a year.
been able to leave his bed. His age,
known men of the Northwest and his
more histories. For seventeen years,
up to 1907, he had served as deputy
United States marshal for this district.
in 1857, settling at Albert Lea.Strikers Appeal to Governor.

United States senators and representatives in connection with the so
placed before the federal grand jury
before the senate lobby investigation
nesses for the committee was called
to testify in person. His examina-
the government's case and to call
United States Senator Stone and Representatives Palmer and Rindard
to deny knowledge of the telephone
ate committee as a basis for criminal prosecution, but with it in their
case.

to be the cause.Another gangster, Peter McCabe,
Gopher gang, was shot and killed on
Staten island by a special policeman,
other men.

Stronger Restrictive Measure.

the Mississippi Valley Almost at a Standstill—Development of Canada,
Checked Only by the Frozen North.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Democratic leaders are as much interested in preventing legislation as getting through those bills which the pre-
the larger Democratic majority would
cion that the Democrats in the last
the last presidential administration.

The President's Position.

tive immigration has not been discov-
inclination toward greater restriction.
It is not likely that he would veto a
bill such as passed the last congress,
but it is expected that a stronger mea-
sure will be put forward when oppor-
country.

That region is the last large tract on
be developed into agricultural communities. The hunger for something new
in the way of tillable lands caused
the frozen north. At the same time
they stay in this country.They Take an Interest.
coming to congress frequently.

Clerks Are Working.

not cease. Nearly every office room at the capitol is a hive of industry, and
to say about the tariff. We knew
views.

Marshall's Plea.

As usual in the senate when an interesting debate is going on no one fol-
his gavel and remarked:
"The chair desires to announce that
and has not been today."
"The chair is quite correct," apologized Senator Lodge, and then the de-
made his plea.

Bone of Contention.

politicians who are also statesmen.
seem successful.Discussing the subject in the senate, Smith of South Carolina remarked that
outright.

in that territory, was introduced in the senate by Senator Poindexter of Washington. For these purposes the

rules told a delegation of women
the house.The delegation included the wives
of Senator Shafroth of Colorado and of Representatives Baker of California, Stone of Illinois and Taylor of Colorado.Mrs. Gardener and Mrs. Stone, who
did the talking, told Mr. Henry that
votes are cast by suffrage states.
en will vote.

United States public health service
to the administration of the treatment."We regret that the methods of ex-
ciency of this remedy," says the board,
known method of treatment, namely,
rest, fresh air and plenty of good food,

The proposition of supplying cities with ice is one that calls forth much discussion at this season of the year, and as it is a commodity of so much importance that everyone is interested in the various opinions advanced as to price, who should handle the business, whether municipal or private, and the free supply at city expense to the sick, to mothers of infants and to the poor who cannot afford the necessity. The Duluth News-Tribune contains the following regarding the ice question from a St. Paul observation that will be read with interest by many:
"St. Paul has made a discovery. It has an ice problem, just the usual one. To solve it, it got the right to issue $250,000 in bonds to munici-palize the ice business. Before it spent the money, it thought best to see what $250,000 could do.
"The investigation disclosed some surprising figures. It was found that it would cost half the total to provide the plant for housing and distributing 100,000 tons of ice, leaving half for working capital, which would seem none too much, as the rest of the expense between the free crop provided by nature and the refrigerators of the consumers would be $317.00.
With an estimated shrinkage of 25 per cent this represented $4.97 a ton, this including the usual business overhead charges. While the average present charge in that city is $7 a ton, the $2 difference was not considered enough to warrant the venture, as the estimate was only for about one-third of the city's consumption and there was the competition of private, established enterprise to be reckoned with.
St. Paul has about decided that regulation is the better way out.
Probably this is so. But if so, there must be no question as to the completeness of the regulatory powers of the city. Ice is a necessity; its purity is already a subject of city control, its price must also be.
"There would seem to be no sufficient reason that the supplying of ice should not be a subject in this state of control through a strict license law under the health power of cities. That this could extend to price fixing without stretching the police powers, seems reasonable.

"Moreover, better than municipalization with the only object price lowering, is a provision for the free supply at city expense to the sick, to mothers of infants and similar cases

Cuyuna, Minn., July 11—The chuckle softly and was asked what had so hardened his heart that he could be amused in the face of danger.

"I was just wondering," he replied, "what they would do if they had to yawn."—New York Sun.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and there-

The proposition of supplying cities with ice is one that calls forth much discussion at this season of the year, and as it is a commodity of so much importance that everyone is interested in the various opinions advanced as to price, who should handle the business, whether municipal or private, and the free supply at city expense to the sick, to mothers of infants and to the poor who cannot afford the necessity. The Duluth News-Tribune contains the following regarding the ice question from a St. Paul observation that will be read with interest by many:

"St. Paul has made a discovery. It has an ice problem, just the usual one. To solve it, it got the right to issue $250,000 in bonds to municipalize the ice business. Before it spent the money, it thought best to see what $250,000 could do.

"The investigation disclosed some surprising figures. It was found that it would cost half the total to provide the plant for housing and distributing 100,000 tons of ice, leaving half for working capital, which would seem none too much, as the rest of the expense between the free crop provided by nature and the refrigerator of the consumers would be $317.00.

With an estimated shrinkage of 25 per cent this represented $4.97 a ton, this including the usual business overhead charges. While the average present charge in that city is $7 a ton, the $2 difference was not considered enough to warrant the venture, as the estimate was only for about one-third of the city's consumption and there was the competition of private, established enterprise to be reckoned with.

St. Paul has about decided that regulation is the better way out. Probably this is so. But if so, there must be no question as to the completeness of the regulatory powers of the city. Ice is a necessity; its purity is already a subject of city control, its price must also be.

"There would seem to be no sufficient reason that the supplying of ice should not be a subject in this state of control through a strict license law under the health power of cities. That this could extend to price fixing without stretching the police powers, seems reasonable.

"Moreover, better than municipalization with the only object price lowering, is a provision for the free supply at city expense to the sick, to mothers of infants and similar cases on the order of whatever department or bureau has charge of the relief of the poor."

MERCHANTS AND CLERKS PICNIC

Former Mayor H. P. Dunn Appointed General Chairman of the Big Annual Event

Mr. Dunn Appoints the Finance, Transportation and Entertainment Committees

Merrifield is to be the scene of this year's picnic of the merchants and clerks and was so decided on at last night's meeting of the merchants, clerks and professional men held at the H. W. Linnemann store. H. P. Dunn was made temporary chairman of the meeting and later the popular ex-mayor was voted permanent chairman. Joe Gablou served as secretary.

When the time came for balloting for the location of the picnic to be held August 6, the first Wednesday of next month, Merrifield had clear sailing. There was no opposition and the town which royally entertained the merchants and clerks in 1911 will do so again in 1913.

General Chairman Dunn appointed as the finance committee Ed. Levant, W. E. Brockway, Harry Carlson, O. A. Peterson, H. W. Linnemann and Wm. Pfeiffer.

The transportation committee includes D. A. Peterson, A. Halberg and H. P. Dunn.

The entertainment committee is headed by W. J. Lyons and his committee members are L. A. Grant, Albert Peterson, William Turcotte and B. C. McNamara.

The public generally is cordially invited to attend the picnic. It will be a holiday in Brainerd, all stores, as a rule. Closing for the big celebration. An effort will be made to get two special trains, and the running schedule will be announced later.

Merrifield is located on the Minnesota & International railway and on the day of the picnic will be a great train center, having two day and two night passenger trains on the regular service, the two special trains and the two freights. Beautiful scenery abounds at and around Merrifield. The country is so healthy that no one ever dies there. They send them to Brainerd.

Mayor Quinn Parker will have the town decorated in honor of the event. The program will start with an address of welcome by Mayor Parker and the formal delivery of the keys of the city to General Chairman H. P. Dunn, who will reply with the oratory for which he is justly famous. The Brainerd City band will give a concert program. There will be a game of baseball between the merchants and the clerks and a purse of $50 is being raised for the winner, says W. J. Lyons. James Alderman is to twirl for the clerks and Claudius Tucker will do the receiving. For the merchants it is hoped to have Cook on the mound and Quinn Parker as catcher.

Seats and benches galore will dot the broad expanse of the domains of the municipality of Merrifield that day. There will be boating and launch riding, swimming, a program of sports on land and it is hoped also some water events, picnicking, dancing, in short, one ceaseless round of pleasure from the time the M. & I. special stops to the time it lets out those short toots to collect the crowd for the return trip.

Some people may not wish to be burdened down with half a dozen children and 16 lunch baskets. For these the best of accommodations can be found at the two hotels of Merrifield. Good, satisfying meals are served at the George Russell and the Clayton Hollingsworth hotels. They are easy to find. When you see one, the other is right across the street.

The public, and that means everybody, is invited to attend. The best of order is preserved. It will be a day of recreation and pleasure for every one attending.

FISHWAY AT POWER CO. DAM

Board Covering Provided will Darken Passage Way and Permit Advancement of the Fish

ONSTINE ORDERS CHANGE MADE

Takes Party to Dam in His Auto—Fine Crops Seen on North and South Roads

Hundreds of pike, pickerel, suckers and other fish with clouds of minnows were seen at the foot of the Cuyuna Range Power company dam when a party composed of Deputy Game Warden W. H. Onstine, Judge J. H. Warner, I. U. White and the writer visited the Crow Wing river dam site.

The fishway leading from the lower waters was built in accordance with the specifications of the state game and fish commission. Constructed of cement, it has the hook-shaped, letter "L" projections which make a sort of water stairway for the fish to climb a height of 22 feet to the upper level of the waters and then swim northward to Gull lake and other fish-hungry centers of summer dwellers and residents. The fish, however, will not ascend a daylight fishway.

Deputy Game Warden Onstine asked that a board covering be added and this has been done. In addition signs were posted notifying persons not to fish within 50 feet of the dam.

T. H. Crowell, vice president of the Cuyuna Range Power company, showed the visitors every courtesy and complied with all the suggestions for the improvement of fishing. He showed the members the dam, led them over its top, explained the working of the power house, etc.

There is quite a little village about the dam. Cottages have been built by many of the employees. One is now under construction for one of the operators.

On the way out Mr. Onstine took the south road and his Ford car deftly took all the sharp turns of the road. Crops are looking fine. The car skimmed past fields of rye which could not be improved upon. "That rye," said I. U. White, "certainly was last year's rye beaten a mile." In one field was found a section of field corn, a plot of pop corn and a patch of sweet corn.

The return was made by way of the north road. The 260 acre potato farm, which Thomas Beare is managing, is in fine shape. Situated near Sylvan, it lies in one of the finest farming sections of the state. Winter rye looked good. There were acres and acres of potatoes, of buckwheat and other crops.

At Gull River Mr. White pointed out a fine field of wheat. The corn looked sturdy and gave every assurance of a big yield. A patch of beans showed that garden truck is being benefited by the rains.

The school house at Gull River, shining bravely in a coat of white paint, was designed years ago by Mr. White. Near by the car passed a lake which Mr. White said marked the place where he caught his first fish in Crow Wing county 42 years ago. The Baxter school house, which Mr. White built, was in good shape and showed little wear.

Near Baxter is where Dr. J. C. Rosser in the pioneer days shot a buck and, as hunters do, had stabbed him. The doctor sat on a stump to enjoy a smoke, satisfied with the success of the day's sport. In scanning the horizon between clouds of his tobacco smoke he was astonished to see a buck racing for cover. The animal which had been shot and stabbed had revived sufficiently to make a dying attempt to escape and he ran into the brush and the doctor did not find him for hours until he had beaten through the woods up to the Tennis place.

The north and south roads to the dam are highways which try the skill of the most experienced chauffeur and Judge Warner complimented Mr. Onstine on his success in navigating his car. There were places near Sylvan where the car threaded through a maze of telephone poles, barb wire fences, curves and deep ruts and I. U. White and the writer on the back seat got real chummy as the bumps tossed them about.

Merrifield is to be the scene of this year's picnic of the merchants and clerks and was so decided on at last night's meeting of the merchants, clerks and professional men held at the H. W. Linnemann store. H. P. Dunn was made temporary chairman of the meeting and later the popular ex-mayor was voted permanent chairman. Joe Gablou served as secretary.

When the time came for balloting for the location of the picnic to be held August 6, the first Wednesday of next month, Merrifield had clear sailing. There was no opposition and the town which royally entertained the merchants and clerks in 1911 will do so again in 1913.

General Chairman Dunn appointed as the finance committee Ed. Levant, W. E. Brockway, Harry Carlson, O. A. Peterson, H. W. Linnemann and Wm. Pfeiffer.

The entertainment committee is headed by W. J. Lyons and his committee members are L. A. Grant, Albert Peterson, William Turcotte and B. C. McNamara.

The public generally is cordially invited to attend the picnic. It will be a holiday in Brainerd, all stores, as a rule, closing for the big celebration. An effort will be made to get two special trains, and the running schedule will be announced later.

James Alderman is to twirl for the clerks and Claudius Tucker will do the receiving. For the merchants it is hoped to have Cook on the mound and Quinn Parker as catcher.

Seats and benches galore will dot the broad expanse of the domains of the municipality of Merrifield that day. There will be boating and launch riding, swimming, a program of sports on land and it is hoped also some water events, picnicking, dancing, in short, one ceaseless round of pleasure from the time the M. & I. special stops to the time it lets out those short toots to collect the crowd for the return trip.

DRILLS WORKING IN DEERWOOD

Denny, of Duluth, has rented the Miller cottage on Bay lake. John Helmer has bought a summer home on Farm Island lake. Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Adams have returned from their wedding trip. Mrs. T. J. Tyler, of Seattle, Wash., will spend the summer at their home on Serpent lake. Miss Maude Hage is visiting friends in Wadena. Mrs. Wilhelmine Bartens visited in Brainerd Wednesday. William Seafeld is attending to business matters in Duluth. E. A. Lamb is at Minneapolis, attending to business matters. Howard Dickerson is improving his farm. W. E. Parker, of Wadena, was at Deerwood Wednesday on his way to the bankers convention at Duluth.

Tom DeRocher, Hugo Barthelme, Martin Torgerson and E. C. Holmes enjoyed an auto trip to Brainerd last Sunday.

Mrs. Charles G. Osterlund has optioned 40 acres in section 16 within the city limits, such land to be drilled and explored for iron ore.

PELICAN CREEK RIFFLES

Clarence Erickson and Legare Allen came home to spent the Fourth at Cross Lake. Erickson has been running an engine at Winnibigoshish dam for the government.

Mrs. Will Holland and three children came up from Bloomington, Ill., to visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Beaver and other relatives.

Quite a crowd of people gathered at Miller's summer resort on Pelican lake on Saturday to see the fireworks shot off which the resorters brought up from Minneapolis. They were certainly fine. The most of them were very expensive ones.

Hazel Kimball came home to visit for a few weeks also to spend the Fourth with her old school mates. She says the summer is a little too warm for her in a large city like Minneapolis. She has been a stenographer for W. W. Savage for the last seven months.

We had the most water fall the afternoon of the Fourth that the writer ever saw at one time except the fall in one day in 1904. We also had some hail with it. The hail did some damage to garden truck and split up the leaves in the corn fields. The wind was strong and blew the corn over, but as it was young and short, it did not do any material damage to the growing crop.
